

Position: Deconstruction Technician

Location: Chicagoland area

BlueEarth Deconstruction is hiring Deconstruction Technicians to work, learn, and grow with us – deconstructing homes, commercial properties, and barns – salvaging quality building materials. All roles offer a path to growth in responsibility and pay. It's more than demolition – we work to preserve the reusable building materials in our projects and prevent unnecessary waste from going to landfills.

What to expect:

- You'll work hard to make good things happen
- You'll be trusted to do your work, figure things out and discover better ways to do things
- You'll use all the skills you know, and learn new ones
- You'll get paid fairly, on time, every week, for every hour you work, including overtime

Apply if:

- You know your way around a set of tools, or have been described as "handy" by others
- You work best with a talented and dedicated team
- You like to work with your hands
- You take pride in the quality of your work
- You want to make a greater impact with your work

Do not apply if:

- You're afraid of hard work
- You prefer to sit in a cubicle all day
- You're worried that sweating will ruin your hair or make-up
- You're wimpy when it comes to weather, dirt, or heavy lifting
- You do not have reliable transportation around the greater Chicago area
- You need to be babysat to complete a task

*Valid license and reliable transportation are required.

*Construction experience, preferred.

*Box truck or flatbed truck driving experience is a plus, but not necessary.

*Equipment (Bobcat, forklift, boom lift) experience is a plus, but not necessary.
